

LIFE PRESERVER MARKED 'BREMEN' FOUND ON COAST

Bears Words Meaning Patented or Trade Mark and the Supposed Name of the Maker

PICKED UP BY YOUNG BOY

Large Submarine, Going in Direction of New London, Conn., Sighted by Fisherman

Portland, Me., Sept. 29.—A life preserver marked "Bremen," the name of the German submarine freighter which has been generally expected to arrive at some Atlantic coast port for the past week or more, was picked up on the ocean side of Cape Elizabeth today. The name "Bremen" was stenciled in black letters two inches high on both sides of the buoy. On one side of the canvas covering was printed a small crown.

Over this were the words "Shut-Mark," meaning patented, or trade mark. Beneath were words "Epping-Hoven, Wilhelmshafen." This indicated, apparently, the name of the maker. The preserver seemed to be new and apparently had not been in the water a great length of time. It was stowed with oil. An officer of the Coast Guard Cutter Service, who examined the buoy, said that if the preserver had been thrown overboard by some one who thought to play a practical joke, he had done a very good job.

The preserver was well made, and the lettering and the ink were of the best quality.

The buoy was picked up at a small place known as Maiden Cove, by a 19-year-old lad, Frederic L. Lakeman, of Westbrook. A number of other persons were nearby at the time and saw the boy pick up the object from the beach near the water's edge.

AGENTS OF THE BREMEN ARE NOT DISTURBED BY REPORT

New London, Conn., Sept. 29.—Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agents for the German line of submarine merchantmen, were undisturbed tonight over the report that a life preserver marked "Bremen" had been picked up off the Maine coast. When asked if the preserver might have belonged to the long expected submarine Captain Hirsch said, "Impossible."

He added that it was unlikely that the Bremen's preservers would be marked in the manner of the one found.

FISHERMAN SEES SUBMARINE GOING TOWARDS NEW LONDON

Westerly, R. I., Sept. 29.—A fisherman at Pleasant View, near Watch Hill, overlooking Long Island sound, reported tonight that he had seen with his marine glasses a large submarine proceeding in the direction of New London, where the German submarine Bremen has been expected for more than a week. She was then 25 miles east of New London and showed on her mast a bright white light above a green light.

These lights, according to the observer, were the ones he had been told by Captain Robinson, of the tug Westerly, would be carried by the German submarine. The fisherman said he had seen the submarine about two miles off shore and was going at a moderate rate of speed. The sea was very choppy.

NO SUBMARINE SIGHTED IN WATERS NEAR NEW LONDON

New London, Conn., Sept. 29.—No submarine had been sighted in the waters tonight. Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company and the T. A. Scott Wrecking Company, agents in this country for the German line of submarines, claimed they had no knowledge of the early approach of a German submarine.

MR. JAMES H. SOUTHWATE DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Was One of the Most Prominent Citizens of Durham Section.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 29.—James H. Southgate, fifty-seven years old, prominent in church and missionary circles, and prohibition candidate for Vice-President in 1896, died suddenly at his home in Orange county near University station at one o'clock today, according to a telegram received here by relatives. He was chairman of trustees of Trinity college, and was a widower.

Mr. Southgate represented 35 insurance companies as agent and was formerly president of the National association of insurance agents. He was prominent in all work for the uplift and betterment of the people of North Carolina.

Mrs. Southgate died some years ago. She was a sister of Mrs. T. B. Fuller of Durham, and of Mrs. A. S. Huske, of Fayetteville.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 29.—Major W. A. Guthrie, one of North Carolina's most widely known men, is critically ill of paralysis at his home here, and physicians hold out little hope for his recovery.

U. S. NEUTRALITY AGAIN CRITICISED

Berlin Press Uses Rockwell's Death as Instance of Sympathy for the Allies

RENEW U-BOAT WARFARE?

Newspapers Declare America is Taking Advantage of Modified Submarine Policy to Aid the Enemies of Germany.

Berlin, Sept. 29. (via London, Sept. 28).—Immediately on the heels of the utterances of the imperial chancellor in the Reichstag concerning the submarine campaign, the afternoon newspapers generally print criticisms of the neutrality of the United States based on the news of the death of the American aviator, Kiffin Rockwell, and the presence of other American aviators on the western front.

They connect this evidence of American sympathy for the Entente Allies and the supplying of war materials by firms in the United States as an indication of the futility of concessions to the American standpoint with regard to submarines. They declare that these facts show how American respect for neutrality is vanishing, and how America is misusing the present form of submarine warfare to cover the active participation of American citizens in the war on the side of the Entente Allies.

The Lokal Anzeiger, under the heading, "American Neutrality," prints the following:

"With a naïveté which must appear astonishing, even in a war which overturns ordinary conceptions of international law and neutrality, the Paris Mafin announces that American Rockwell, one of the best known American aviators, has fallen in an air battle. The Mafin does not attempt to dispute the fact that long known to us that at Verdun an area troop under the name of the American aviator squadron participated in the fighting."

"We all know, that impelled by love of peace and charity of human sacrifices, we made concessions to America and now see with astonishment that the concessions have resulted only in further supply of the Entente with ammunition and guns. We now see further how our conciliatory attitude directly has been abused by the American side and Americans can, therefore, reach the enemy and fill important positions."

"We are acquainted naturally with the love of adventure in the American blood and we do not condemn it. We also would have no occasion whatever to pay attention to the exercise of this passion if we had not believed that the concessions to the United States would be sufficient for honorable men to bridle the strongest inclinations to ignore the most natural obligations of neutrality."

"If, however, as the aforementioned facts seem to show, we have acted in this assumption, we must only regret to have made concessions which are misused and which show us to what degree the feeling and respect of the conception of neutrality have been lost by Americans and by the Entente. We still believe it will be possible for the American government to take measures that the concessions made to it shall not undergo usage to which under no circumstances we can submit on the part of American citizens. Such actions can only be regarded as an evasion of our agreement with the union."

Vossische Zeitung says the longer the war lasts the American attempts to throw a mantle over its so-called neutrality and the "appearance of a resolution asking congressional inquiry of the livestock industry was withdrawn without action."

P. W. Goebel, of Kansas City, was elected president of the association, and Oliver J. Standa, of Richmond, was re-elected chairman of the insurance committee.

EMPLOYEES ON BOATS OF THE NEW YORK CENTRAL DEMAND SHORTER HOURS AND MORE PAY

Probability of General Sympathetic Strike in Support of Car Men

BREWERS RETURN TO WORK

Organized Labor "Will not Act in Concert in Behalf of the Car Men"

New York, Sept. 29.—Ferryboats of the New York Central railroad company, plying between Manhattan and New Jersey, were tied up during the rush hours late today by a strike of 150 employees on the boats. The latest labor difficulty in this city resulted from the men's demand for shorter hours and higher pay. The strike has no connection, it was said, with the traffic situation. Thousands of commuters left the city for their homes in New Jersey over roundabout routes.

Probability of a general sympathetic strike in aid of the traction employees who quit their places on September 6 lessened tonight with the announcement that a local brewery workers' union, whose 900 members struck in response to the call of the conference of labor leaders, had voted to return to work. Officials of the union issued a statement saying developments proved that organized labor "will not act in concert in behalf of the car men."

Organization of subway and elevated road motormen will continue, according to a statement made today by L. C. Grilling, third assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in charge of the work in this city.

Sixteen persons were injured, one seriously, in a rear end collision between two surface cars in the Bronx this afternoon. One car was standing still when the other, said to have been operated by strike breakers, crashed into it. The motorman of the rear car jumped from his post, it is said, and disappeared.

Marked improvement in surface car traffic was reported today with subway and elevated lines operating on normal schedules.

BRITISH IN DRIVE TOWARDS BAPAUME ADVANCE STEADILY

Take 500 Yards Trenches at Two Points in Face of Stubborn German Resistance

RAIN HAMPERING FIGHTING

Austro-Germans Have Repulsed the Rumanians at Hermannstadt in Transylvania

Steadily the British troops are pushing forward toward the Peronne-Bapaume road, the main artery immediately behind the German lines north of Comble. After taking 500 yards of trenches southwest of Lesars, General Sir Douglas Haig's men made additional progress in the capture of 500 yards of German trenches east of Les Boufs.

Strong German Counter Attack. The British occupancy of the territory between Thiepval and the Ancre is being contested strongly by the Germans. A German counter attack after the entry of the British into a section of the Hessian trenches resulted in the forcing out of the holders. The section was regained later, however, by the British. From the 23rd the fighting also has occurred around the Stiff redoubt.

Rain is hampering operations on the remainder of the Anglo-French front north of the Somme, according to official statements. Paris mentions no activity after the advance between Fregecourt and Morval toward Sailly, on the Peronne-Bapaume road.

Tentative Repulse. There has been no great activity on any of the other fronts in Europe, except in Transylvania, where the Austro-Germans have repulsed the Rumanians at Hermannstadt. Vienna says the Rumanian forces also have occupied the heights east and southeast of the town after violent fighting. The battle in this section, however, has not yet been finished.

Russian Advance Repulsed. The intense fighting in the region of Koryuliza, on the eastern front in Russia, appears to have come to an end. Berlin and Vienna say that the Russian pressers have increased to 100,000. The Russian forces under Prince Leopold of Bavaria, here also took two cannon and 33 machine guns. Berlin records the repulse of a Russian advance near Godusichki, and Petrograd claims the defeat of a German attack near Oukalov. Fighting continues in the Carpathians but there has been no change in the battle lines.

Check Bulgarian Attacks. In Macedonia the Entente allied troops are withstanding Bulgarian attacks. The Serbians have checked four attacks against positions on the Kairmakalan plateau and the French have withstood assaults along the Broda river.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, commander of the German forces on the Somme front, and Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, both declare that the efforts of the French and British to force a breach in the German lines on the Somme have been fruitless. The Entente troops will have to go through a winter campaign on the Somme and continue their efforts next year. Crown Prince Rupprecht is quoted as saying: "The Imperial Chancellor, in his address to the Reichstag, declared that the German front 'stands firm and unshakable,' and added that 'the end is not yet in sight.'"

GERMANS SEEM CONFIDENT OF HOLDING LINES TOGETHER

Berlin, Sept. 29.—(via London, Sept. 28).—The latest fighting on the Somme evidently has not shaken the confidence of the German military leaders in their ability to prevent a breach in their line. The Berliner Tageblatt special Paris correspondent, Ernst Henschel, reports that the German forces on the Somme, Tuesday, and the crown prince's utterances expressed complete confidence in the situation for the present and the future.

The crown prince is quoted as having said that since the offensive began, the Entente Allies had gained some ground, but there could be no thought of this decisively changing the situation.

"It is impossible to predict how things will go hereafter," said Prince Rupprecht, "but one thing is certain, namely, that we have everything so thoroughly prepared that we are able to contemplate the situation with equanimity, whatever comes. The offensive will certainly not reach an early end."

SARAH BERNHARDT, ACTRESS, COMING TO AMERICA

A dispatch from Paris Friday night announced that Sarah Bernhardt, the famous actress, would sail Saturday for the United States.

PRESIDENT MAKES IT PLAIN THAT HE DESIRES NO VOTES FROM 'DISLOYAL' AMERICANS

"I Would Feel Deeply Mortified to Have You or Anybody Like You Vote for Me" He Wires Jeremiah A. O'Leary, of New York, in Reply to Telegram Charging Him With Being Pro-British—Asks Him to Convey Message to Others.

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 29.—President Wilson made it plain tonight that he wants no "disloyal" American to vote for him. He expressed indignation over a telegram from Jeremiah A. O'Leary, of New York, president of the American Trust Society, accusing him of being pro-British and saying he had failed to obtain compliance with American rights.

The President sent Mr. O'Leary a short telegram which officials indicated at questions that he deny or confirm the charge that John Lind went to Mexico with orders to oust General Huerta. On this subject Mr. Wilson takes the position that Huerta was ousted; that the Democratic administration opposed him consistently and that, therefore, no reply is necessary.

The President received word today that John M. Parker, Progressive candidate for Vice President, plans to make speeches in opposition to Mr. Hughes. At first administrative officials said the President himself had heard from Mr. Parker but later it was stated that this was a mistake and that a letter announcing his intention had been sent by Mr. Parker to Bainbridge Colby, of New York.

WILL REQUIRE $1,500,000 FOR DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

New York, Sept. 29.—A fund of $1,500,000 will be required to conduct the Democratic National campaign, according to a statement made here tonight by Henry Morgenthau, treasurer of the National Campaign Committee. He declared New York was expected to contribute about one-third of this amount, which exceeds by about $400,000 the sum spent in the 1912 campaign.

Mr. Morgenthau said that the printing bill alone would be three times as much as it was in 1912, because of the increased price of paper. He announced that contributions thus far received exceeded by 65 per cent those which had been sent in up to the same time in 1912. There have been several contributions of $10,000 each but only three of more than that amount, he said.

JOHN M. PARKER TO SPEAK AGAINST HUGHES' CANDIDACY

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—John M. Parker, Progressive Vice Presidential nominee, said here today that he had written Bainbridge Colby, a New York Progressive leader, stating that he was willing to be used "in whatever way appeared best" and that when he went to New York he would speak against the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes.

"Of course that would be in favor of Mr. Wilson," said Mr. Parker, "but I will speak as a Progressive and not as an affirmative supporter of the Democratic nominee."

Mr. Parker reiterated that he preferred Mr. Wilson over Mr. Hughes, but he said he did not expect to speak under the auspices of the Democratic campaign committee.

GENERAL SITUATION UNCHANGED

To sum up, on the Somme front there have been isolated hostile successes, which, however, do not change the general situation. Otherwise a successful defense has been against all hostile attacks and thus the enemy attempts have been thwarted. In the Balkans the hostile plan failed. Thus the enormous war goes on.

The aims proclaimed by our enemies are becoming increasingly clear and admit of no misunderstanding. They are: Lust of conquest and annihilation. It is proposed to give Constantinople to Russia, Alsace Lorraine to France, the Trentino and Triest to Italy, and Transylvania to Rumania.

GERMAN FRONT IS YET 'UNSHAKEN' BY ALLIED ASSAULTS

Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg Says End of Somme Battle Has Not Come in Sight

REVIEWS RUMANIA'S ENTRY

Refers to England as "Our Most Egoistic, Most Bitter and Most Tenacious Enemy"

Berlin, Sept. 28. (via Sayville, Sept. 29).—In an extended speech on the occasion of the opening of the Reichstag here today, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg reviewed the military situation confronting Germany and referred to England as "our most egoistic, our most bitter and our most tenacious enemy," according to the semi-official report of the Overseas News Agency this afternoon.

"A German steamer which would refrain from using against this enemy every proper means of warfare which is apt to shorten the war, deserves to be hanged," is one of the statements attributed to the chancellor.

Reviews Rumania's Entry. The chancellor began by reviewing at length the entry of Rumania into the war and said that the Russian offensive this spring had made Premier Bratianu believe he saw the breaking down of the Central Powers.

"Accordingly," the speaker said, "he decided to obtain a share when the robbery of the dead body began. Since the beginning of the world war Rumania has followed a policy of piracy, depending upon the general war situation. Rumania's military participation will prove as mistaken as her political exploitation to her Entente friends, which already has been proved to have been wrong. They must have hoped earnestly that Rumania's participation in the war would cause the defection of Bulgaria and Turkey, but Turkey and Bulgaria are not the same as Rumania and Italy. Firm and inviolable stands their faithfulness as allies and they have won glorious victories in Dobruja."

Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg then reviewed the military situation.

"Since the beginning of July," he said, "English and French attacks on the Somme have raged most without interruption. The common offensive of the Entente enemies wanted to break through the front of the hated Germans, free France and Belgium and carry the war across the Rhine into Germany."

Will Not Break German Line. "But what has happened? The French and English have gained advantages and have pushed back our first lines some kilometers. We have suffered heavy losses in men and material. This, however, is unavoidable in the face of an offensive planned on such a broad scale. But what our enemies hoped and attempted to do was to stop our front was not broken nor rolled up but stands firm and unshaken. Heavy and violent is the fighting there on the Somme and the end is not yet in view. Further sacrifices are necessary. This or that trench and this or that village may be lost. But they will not push through our lines."

"On the eastern front the great Russian attempt to break through the army stopped by the troops of Archduke Charles and General Von Linning. Attacks west of Lutsk, on the Narayukva river and in the Carpathians then followed but they also broke down."

"There also the fighting will continue. There also it is absolutely certain that the line will be maintained by the heroism of our armies."

Unshaken in the Balkans. "In the Balkans the Entente powers planned to split our alliance, to interrupt communication between Germany and the near east, Rumania, Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria-Hungary one after the other and then throw all their forces against isolated Germany."

The chancellor at this point asked what had been said by the army of General Sarrail (the French commander at Saloniki) and by Rumania's "treason" and answered the question as follows:

"The situation of our faithful, brave allies is unshaken. Austria-Hungary stands together with us on the eastern front from Lake Narocz to Transylvania. The Turks are fighting in Gallicia. German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops have defeated the Rumanians in Dobruja. Bulgarian, German and Turkish troops have fought their way to Macedonia."

General Situation Unchanged. "To sum up, on the Somme front there have been isolated hostile successes, which, however, do not change the general situation. Otherwise a successful defense has been against all hostile attacks and thus the enemy attempts have been thwarted. In the Balkans the hostile plan failed. Thus the enormous war goes on."

The aims proclaimed by our enemies are becoming increasingly clear and admit of no misunderstanding. They are: Lust of conquest and annihilation. It is proposed to give Constantinople to Russia, Alsace Lorraine to France, the Trentino and Triest to Italy, and Transylvania to Rumania.

Boston, Sept. 29.—Boston's tight defense turned back New York without a score today while the league leaders hammered out three runs off Shawkey. Ruth, for Boston, held New York to five hits, divided between Geddon and Magee.

New York, as in the other two games of the series, made a rally in the eighth inning, filling the bases with only one out, but a fast double play spoiled their chances for a tally. A great throw by Duffy Lewis choked off one other New York attempt at a score in the fifth inning.

Boston's three runs came in a double, single, a base on balls, an error, a triple and a sacrifice fly. Scott, whose playing at short has been the sensation of the series, had another good day, together with Gardner, Janviri, Lewis and Shotton.

SQUADS IN SOUTH WILL PLAY

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—The Southern football season gets underway tomorrow with practically all of the larger teams in action in contests calculated to test out the strength of the new combinations. Of the 18 games scheduled, eight seem of commanding interest in getting a line on what may be expected.

The game between Virginia and Davidson at Charlottesville probably will be most closely watched, in an effort to learn what may be expected when the Old Dominion tackles Yale and Navy. Next in interest seems to be the contest between Vanderbilt and Southern Presbyterian University at Nashville in view of the effort expended by Vanderbilt to build up a backfield to compare with that broken up by graduation last spring.

Other games of notable interest are Georgia Tech vs Mercer, at Atlanta; Georgia vs Citadel, at Athens; Sewanee vs Morgan, at Sewanee; Alabama vs Birmingham, at Tuscaloosa; North Carolina vs Wake Forest, at Chapel Hill, N. C.; and Tennessee vs Tusculum, at Knoxville.

Mississippi University opened today against Marion while Auburn and Georgetown get under way October 7. Other games include: Chattanooga vs Tennessee Normal, at Chattanooga; Clemson vs Furman, at Clemson, S. C.; Washington and Lee vs Randolph-Macon, at Lexington, Va.; Virginia Military Institute vs Hampden Sydney, at Lexington, Va.; Virginia Polytechnic Institute vs Richmond, at Blacksburg, Va.; North Carolina A. & M. vs Roanoke, at Raleigh, N. ELEVEN MEET IN BATTLE TODAY

Chapel Hill, N. C., September 29.—The game with Wake Forest on Saturday will begin the football season of 1916 at the University, hence it is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Furthermore, it will be the first opportunity for the college band, matched off by the college playing ability of many members of the team who have not appeared before in a varsity game. Yesterday afternoon about 400 members of the student body, headed by the college band, marched out to Emerson Field to watch the scrimmage, and cheered lustily when pretty plays were made. No one is now allowed in the stand until 5 P. M.

A training table was started last night for members of the team in the University Inn, and the members seem very well pleased with it. The team is in very good physical condition at present, with the exception of Grimes, who sprained his ankle yesterday while coming upon the field. He will very probably be unable to play in Saturday's game.

Wake Forest, N. C., Sept. 29.—The Wake Forest football squad, twenty-one strong, accompanied by Coaches Billings and Howell, leave in the morning for Chapel Hill where the University of North Carolina is encountered in the first game of the season for both eleven.

The players constituting the Wake Forest squad are: Harris, Jordan, Plunkett, and Moore, ends; Tatum, McKnight, Blankenship, Cobb, tackle; Olive, C. Shaw, Blizard, guards; Langston, and W. Shaw, centers; R. Pace, Tichonor, J. Pace, and Washburn, halfbacks; Chalmers, quarterback; Parker, Cronin and Forman, fullbacks.

SHOWING MADE BY A. & M.
ELEVEN DISAPPOINTING

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—Judging by the showing A. & M. made against a team of alumni players Wednesday of this week, the followers of the Tech's camp have very little to boast about. The game ended as a scoreless tie, the collegians never had a chance to score against the old timers.

Frank Thompson and John Bray, two of the best football players ever donning the uniform of red and white, displayed the old time skill and effectiveness on the gridiron. "Tal" Stafford played well at quarter and Highman, an old Lafayette star, at right tackle, was too much for the "varsity" eleven.

The show of the "varsity" was disappointing, their interference was inferior and this game brought out the weakness of the aggregation that is to represent A. & M. this season. Numerous shifts will be made. In fact, a real shake-up is in order. Some of the first string men will be replaced by the deserving scrubs in the hopes of making every man fight for his position. No man is sure of his job, and there is constant fear among a number of them when they are to be sent to the third string.

The return of Van Brocklin, Seifert, and "Doc" Cook will do much to strengthen the squad. They have only been here a few days, and did not line-up against the alumni. They will enter the Roanoke game Saturday, and their presence will mean much to the new men.

SUPERBAS AND PHILLIPS
TO PLAY TWO GAMES TODAY

Brooklyn, Sept. 29.—A rain storm put an end to the second game between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Brooklyn Dodgers this afternoon after an inning and a half had been played. Neither side had scored a run and only one hit had been made a single by Wheat. There will be two games tomorrow, the first in the morning.

Among the arrivals at the Hotel Wilmington yesterday were Lieut. W. A. Peschau, Camp Glenn; J. L. Smith, Asheville; J. O. Brown, Greensboro; R. E. Parker, Raleigh, and J. W. Keown, Charlotte.

Several Squads to Begin Play TodayQUITE A NUMBER OF THE MOST IMPORTANT ELEVEN TO INITI-ATE 1916 SEASON ON EAST-ERN GRIDIRONS

New York, Sept. 29.—A number of new "varsity" eleven will swing into action tomorrow, the second Saturday of the Eastern gridiron season of 1916. Among the more important teams to engage in their initial contests are Princeton, Yale, Army, Navy, Colgate, University of Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Brown. None of these eleven is called upon to face formidable opponents.

Principal interest will attach to the showing made by the Pennsylvania, Yale and Princeton combinations in their opening games, as two of these three eleven will appear under the direction of new coaches. The Eli players will be under the direction of Tad Jones. At Pennsylvania Bom Forth is the new coach. "Speedy" Rush is no longer a novelty at Princeton but the manner in which the Tiger coach brought along the Nassau team last season apparently makes the Tigers formidable to opponents this fall.

For the first time in many years Princeton will open her season away from home, playing Holy Cross at Worcester. The latter should be able to give Princeton strong opposition. Yale will face the Carnegie Institute team.

The University of Pennsylvania eleven will have West Virginia as an opponent in the first of the regular scheduled games at Franklin field. Last season Pennsylvania was forced to play top speed football in order to defeat the Southern team 7 to 6.

Both the Army and Navy eleven also will make the debut, meeting Lebanon Valley and Dickinson college combinations, respectively.

Harvard and Dartmouth opened their seasons a week ago with victories, and tomorrow Harvard will line up against Bates, while Dartmouth will have the Boston college team as opponents. Cornell will not get into action until next week.

Other important games include Rutgers vs Villanova; Colgate vs Syracuse; Amherst vs Middlebury; Brown vs Rhode Island; Syracuse vs Grove City and Wesleyan vs Connecticut Aggies.

EAST OF LES BOEUF'S BRITISH CAPTURE 500 YARDS TRENCHES

London, Sept. 29.—East of Les Boeufs, on the Somme front, British troops have occupied 500 yards of German trenches, says the official statement issued by the British war office tonight. There was heavy fighting near Thiepval.

The British were forced from a section of the "Hessian trench" but regained it later. The statement said that more than 500 prisoners were taken in this fighting. The statement reads:

"Rain fell heavily today and, except for intermittent shelling, there was little activity on our center and our right wing of the battle front. Some slight progress was made east of Les Boeufs, where we occupied 500 yards of enemy trenches.

"In the Thiepval area there was heavy fighting around the Stiff redoubt. Having taken an important section of the Hessian trench we were forced out of it by counter attack, but regained it later in the day.

"In this section during the last 24 hours we have taken prisoner eight officers and 521 men of other ranks.

"In spite of the weather our aeroplanes have done useful work attacking the enemy's reinforcements on the move. Yesterday enemy aircraft paroled actively behind their own lines, but showed little enterprise. One enemy machine was destroyed. One of our own machines has not returned.

HEFLIN SAYS WILSON
WILL SWEEP COUNTRYHolds Greensboro Audience Two
and a Half HoursOnly Two Persons Leave The White-Says Man Who Stirs sectionalism, is Unworthy of the Presidential Office.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 29.—Twelve hundred people listened with rapt attention tonight to a two-hour and a half speech by Congressman J. Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, on the issues of the campaign. But two people left the audience during the speech.

Congressman Hefflin declared that Woodrow Wilson would sweep the Nation by a big majority on November 7, and stated that in his opinion no man was worthy of support for the high office of President who would seek to raise sectional prejudice.

He told the people of the workings of the Federal Reserve act, the Rural Credits bill, the Ship Purchase bill and other legislation, he declared benevolent and constructive. He paid his respects to Roosevelt, Hughes, Penrose, Crane and other Republicans.

He closed his speech with the declaration that a Democrat would be the one to dictate the measures of peace when the war was over and the Democrat would be Woodrow Wilson.

He was introduced by Chairman Charles A. Hines, of the county executive committee.

KNOBLOCH, WHO ESCAPED FROM PRISON WITH FAY, IS CAUGHT

Declares he is Ignorant as to Present Whereabouts of Fay.

New York, Sept. 29.—After a search by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, which has extended over the entire country, William Knobloch, who escaped from the Federal penitentiary in Atlanta on August 29 with Lieut. Robert Fay, convicted bomb plotter, was arrested here tonight. He professed ignorance of the present whereabouts of Fay and declared they had no outside assistance in making their escape.

Knobloch had been trailed for three days by secret service men in the hope that he might communicate with Fay but he failed to do so. Knobloch told the special agents of the Department of Justice who arrested him that he and Fay were in hiding in the vicinity of the penitentiary for eight days after they escaped. They then separated and Knobloch worked his way north, paying his way by obtaining odd jobs as an automobile mechanic.

Knobloch was arrested in Baltimore for using the mails to defraud and was sent to Atlanta in May of this year to serve a term of 18 months. He escaped from the penitentiary Fay and Knobloch escaped by use of forged passes on the pretense they had been directed to repair a defective electric wire outside the walls.

She is Placed in Jail, Together With Editor Who Employed Her

Thompson Falls, Mont., Sept. 29.—A. C. Thomas, chairman of the Republican central committee of Sanders county, died in a hospital at Missoula today from a fatal wound inflicted by Miss Edith Colby, a reporter on a local paper. Miss Colby is in jail.

Miss Colby has stated that Thomas had made remarks that reflected on her character. J. Manire, editor of the newspaper that employed Miss Colby, also is in jail. JURY DISAGREES IN CASE
J. T. NOEL, TRIED FOR MURDER

Prisoner is Remanded to Jail and a Further Hearing Will Be Given.

Petersburg, Va., September 29.—The trial of John T. Noel, druggist and former manager of one of a chain of drug stores in this city, charged with the murder of Mrs. Lottie Robinson in her home in this city on the fourteenth of last May, which has been in progress here for the last three days, resulted tonight in a hung jury.

After deliberating for more than two hours, the jury reported hopeless disagreement. The court sent the jury back for an hour but further deliberation brought no change. The commonwealth endeavored to show by the absence of any indications of burning about the garments where the ball entered, and by other physical facts in the case that Mrs. Robinson was shot from a distance of more than three feet and not as the result of a struggle, as testified by Noel, and asked for a verdict of first degree murder. The jury stood one for the first degree murder, four for acquittal or involuntary manslaughter, and seven for second degree murder. Noel was remanded to jail for further hearing.

WIFE'S BODY FOUND IN THE RUINS OF BURNED COTTAGE

New Hampshire Man to Face Charge of First Degree Murder.

Mountain View, N. H., Sept. 29.—High Sheriff Arthur Chandler of Carroll county, announced last night that he would prefer a charge of first degree murder tomorrow against Frederick L. Small, whose wife was found apparently murdered in the charred ruins of the Small cottage on the shores of Lake Umbagog this morning. Small was held under guard in a local hotel tonight.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Small cottage last night. When the ruins had cooled this morning Mrs. Small's body was found lying with the head in a pool of water in the basement. A rope was wound tightly twice around her neck and her skull was crushed.

Mrs. Small left home late yesterday afternoon for Boston and returned today after receiving word of the fire. She later offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture of her wife's assailant.

Mrs. Small's maiden name was Florence Curry and she was his third wife. They were married in December, 1911.

FAR WEST CAMPAIGN ENDS.

Prohibition Candidates Given Rousing Welcome in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 29.—A rousing meeting, bringing an end to the Prohibition state convention tonight, closed the far western invasion of the "dry" campaigners who left Chicago three weeks ago for the Pacific coast.

Meetings were held today in Rawlins, Laramie and Cheyenne, Wyo., and Greeley and Denver, Colo.

Greeley, founded by the late Horace Greeley, and which had a "dry" provision written into its charter and still carries a similar provision in all deeds to real estate, gave the speakers one of the best receptions of the present tour.

THEATRICAL

Do you remember a great contest recently held by Picture Play Magazine in which a big prize was offered for the best scenario for starring that great Universal star, Mary Fuller? It excited educational interest and many thousand scenarios were submitted, and today the Bijou will present the winning story, "Love's Masquerade," a great two-reel Gold Seal Drama starring that beautiful Universal star in the most unique and strongest role she has ever portrayed before the camera. The scenario was carefully worked out by Catherine Car and the direction was the work of Lucius Henderson, who has directed Mary Fuller's pictures so long. Harry Benham, in the part of the brave young lieutenant of the U. S. N., who wins Mary's heart, is the picture of manly strength and elegance, while Margaret McEae looks very pretty in a part that does not require a great deal of action. In short, the whole production is a winner from start to finish.

Other big features on today's bill at the Bijou include the latest number of the Animated Weekly, full of interesting pictures, and a rousing lecture comedy drama, "Jane's Choice," starring Matt Moore and Jane Gall.

Do you remember that great Charlie Chaplin comedy, "The Fireman," presented at the Grand six weeks ago? Or perhaps you were one of the ones who were not lucky enough to get inside before the house was full and therefore missed one of the treats of your life. If so, you no doubt have heard many talking about this great comedy and would be quick to take advantage of an opportunity to see it. Well, it's coming to the Grand today, playing a return engagement in response to many requests from those who did not see it or who have friends they want to get a chance to see it.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Fireman," does some of the greatest comedy stunts of his whole career and it is one uproarious laugh from beginning to end—two thousand feet of pure fun and comedy that will simply make you fall off your seat. "The Fireman" has been voted the best of Chaplin's first three comedy productions for Mutual, and is second only to the fourth great comedy entitled "One A. M." in which Chaplin gained world renown by doing the act all alone for two whole reels, no one else appearing on the screen after the first few scenes. So today, when the crowds will not be so big as before, take advantage of this last opportunity to see Charlie Chaplin as a doughty fireman.

Lillian Walker at Royal.
Today the Royal presents one of the very greatest Vitaphone Blue Ribbon Features ever released. There is no mistake about it—it has been thoroughly investigated by the big critics and they have all pronounced it "simply great." It's in six great reels too—six thousand feet of action and charm. "The Kid," is the title and it stars "The girl with the dimples," pretty Lillian Walker, with all-star Vitaphone supporting cast.

Blood is thicker than water—sometimes—but not always. "The Kid," for instance, didn't fall in the arms of the man, who was her real father, even though they were laden with riches. Rather, she turned to a down-in-the-hell newspaper man—the only protector she had ever known. But there was a big reason why—and that makes for a story that grips the attention and the heart-strings. It presents "Dimples," Lillian Walker, in a new role—a live, peppy, clever newspaper reporter whom they all called "The Kid." She had the nerve and the nerve to track down a beef king, tag a murderer on his conscience, "scoop" the story, only to find out the was her own father.

Then leaving him free from the arm of the law, she turns around and marries her "daddy," a newspaper man who always thought was her real father. Original in theme, supreme in action—holding the interest and dramatic situations, "The Kid," carries the delightful "heart-punch" you so crave

MINISTER KOO, WHO HAS RESIGNED, AND HIS WIFE.

Peking, Sept. 28.—Dr. Vi. Kylian, Wellington Koo, minister to the United States, has sent his resignation to the foreign office, giving ill health as the reason. The resignation has not yet been accepted by the president. Dr. Koo's resignation has created surprise in Peking.

Dr. Koo graduated from Columbia University in 1909 and received his degree of doctor of philosophy in 1912. He was appointed minister to the United States in November, 1915, by President Yuan Shi Kai, for whom he had previously acted as private secretary. He was credited with being the youngest diplomatic representative ever sent to Washington.

SUPERIOR COURT IN PENDER

Hon. H. S. Ward Speaks at Burgaw. Cotton Moving—Chautauqua Entertains.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Burgaw, N. C., Sept. 29.—Pender Superior court, which has been in session here all this week with Judge Geo. W. Connor presiding, adjourned for the week this afternoon, and will convene again next Monday for the second week. The case of Bordeaux vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, which was decided in favor of the defendant, occupied two days in the trial.

The only other cases disposed of were Jacobs vs. Riley Williams, et al., judgment for the plaintiff; Howard vs. A. C. L. Railroad, non suit; Garris vs. A. C. L. Railroad, non suit; Wallace vs. Wallace, removed to New Hanover for trial; Bowden vs. Bowden, divorce, judgment for plaintiff. Some other matters have been disposed of, and it is expected that next week's work will help clear the docket.

Burgaw has been entertained since Wednesday by a chautauqua, something new here. It closes its engagement tonight. Those who have attended have been highly entertained.

Hon. Hallett S. Ward spoke in the court house here at noon today to a fairly good crowd, and his speech has been spoken of as one of the best ever delivered here, if not the best. He discussed State and National issues from a Democratic standpoint, and made a profound impression. He said no man knew who would be elected president, but that Wilson deserved to be.

Cotton is beginning to come in now and the price paid by the ginners here is very good, but the crop is very short in this section.

A good shower fell here today and laid the dust, which was getting to be quite disagreeable.

Mr. A. R. Bordeaux, who lives about six miles west of Burgaw, celebrated his 81st birthday last Sunday, by having a family reunion at which there was quite an assemblage of children, grandchildren and members of the family. The table was spread in the yard, under the trees, and a most bountiful repast was enjoyed. Mr. Bordeaux is one among the oldest citizens of the county. There were 45 people present.

to see in photoplays. It's in six reels, and therefore will begin promptly at the schedule hours.

"Linger Longer Lucy"
In building up a production, the first thing considered was to get a company together from which nothing could be desired in the way of improving it. This proved quite a task, but still going at it with a vim and determination, the management tried this one and then another until they secured the people they desired.

In the up building of the play, every person selected was looked to as a specialty artist of known reputation for originality and ability, and as a result of the careful selections, a company has been formed that absolutely stands second to none. The key-note to their success has been the fact that ability has been the chief requirement throughout. The company's vehicle, "Linger Longer Lucy," is a clever comedy, filled to the brim with pretty music. It will be seen at the Academy of Music, today, giving a matinee and night performance.

A lady brass band and orchestra is carried with the company. The lady band will start their parade from the depot promptly at 1 o'clock and move directly to the post office where they will play a concert. The matinee prices will be 25 cents and 50 cents. The night prices will be from 50 cents to $1. Tickets are now on sale at Plummer's.

ALLEGED OYSTER PIRATES WILL GO ON TRIAL TODAY

Trouble on the Part of Their Comrades May Be Started.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29.—Eleven alleged oyster pirates arrested on September 21 at the point of guns in the hands of a police force headed by State Fish and Game Commissioner Parsons, will be brought to trial today at Makehite Park. Accused of poaching on the privately leased beds of Fran W. Darling, of Hampton, reputed to be the largest oyster planted in Virginia.

Tongues on Pocomoke sound are reported to be incensed at the arrest of their comrades, and officials are watching with a high degree of apprehension the outcome of the hearing. The Commodore Perry, flagship of the Virginia oyster fleet, has been ordered to Coxonoke waters for police duty in the event of trouble.

GIFTS TO TRINITY COLLEGE.

By Rev. A. D. Betts and Mr. Chas. Van Noppen, of Greensboro.

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., September 28.—Mr. Charles Van Noppen, of Greensboro, has presented to the Trinity College Library a steel engraving of William Sidney Porter ("O'Henry"). This portrait will serve as the frontpiece of volume nine of the Biographical History of North Carolinians, of which Mr. VanNoppen is publisher.

Rev. A. D. Betts, a venerable Methodist minister of Greensboro, has presented to the College library a large number of books. Many of the books are new and of great value. The gift from a great admirer of the institution will be of great service.

Canadian Editor-Statesman to Deliver Well Series in November.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 29.—The faculty committee on lectures for the year has just announced through its chairman, Prof. Archibald Henderson, that James A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, will deliver the Well Lectures on "Citizenship" this year.

The first of the series was delivered last year by Prof. George R. McCallan, of Princeton. These lectures will come this year on November 15, 16 and 17.

The general subject of these lectures will be "The North American Idea." Defining this idea as "the right of a free people to govern themselves," in the first lecture the speaker will apply it to the American colonies of the 18th century and to the life and history of the Republic since then, showing that this idea has been the organizing idea back of the rise of the Anglo-Saxon people. In the second lecture he will apply this idea to the history of the Canadian colonies, showing how this original North American idea has expanded into a larger relationship. The third lecture represents a synthesis; namely, the working out of that idea of freedom and of self-government in the international relations of these two countries to the rest of the world and concluding with a portrayal of America's opportunity and responsibility in bringing home that idea to the minds of the world.

Dr. Macdonald is already well and favorably known in North Carolina and the South, where his patriotic efforts in behalf of Flora Macdonald College are so well known.

MORRISON AT WILSON
Delivers Strong Address for Cause of Democracy.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Wilson, N. C., Sept. 29.—Hon. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, delivered a very strong address in the Court House here last night endorsing the Democratic ticket from a country constable up to the President.

Mr. Morrison's address was a very strong one and attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd. It was considered by many the best heard in Wilson in quite a while. He reviewed the Democratic administration and gave the citizens some very strong reasons why they should vote a Democratic ticket in the coming general election in November.

The speaker was very ably introduced by County Chairman F. D. Swindell.

When political lines are drawn, only suckers are landed by the lobsters who are dangling the line.

Don't invest in Republicans now.
They will be on the 39-cent counter
after the 7th of November.

Judge Hughes has our sympathy to the extent that he has lost his voice barking up the wrong tree.

Bickett continue to proclaim "The Record is the Reason" with telling effect. Republicans can't adopt the slogan.

There is always enough truth to make people ashamed, and it is useless to include a pack of lies only to arouse their indignation.

Connecticut lays claim to having a child with two faces. That child has no advantage over a lot of grown people in that respect.

Cotton is selling for more than 15 cents, but the smile on a Democratic farmer's face is worth every cent of it to those who see it.

So far as we are concerned, we always hate to see a didactic diplodocus get busy and mess around in politics with a lot of towerized twaddle.

Those people who think it would be a good idea to organize the Republican party in South Carolina are probably the kind who would like to nurse an adder back to life.

The Democrats are not only replying to the Republican offensive, but they are smothering it with a curtain of fire and are short-stopping all their hard drives to centerfield.

Republicans are naturally grouchy because they have to make noise like an empty wagon to keep the people from trying to recollect the long roll of Democratic achievements for the now militant masses.

Men are getting wise enough to find out what they call woman's intuition is a marvelously quick perception that bespeaks her wisdom—excepting, of course, her strange faculty for taking a fancy to some lobster.

Mr. Louis F. Swift, the meat packer, is reported to have declared that every young man should go in debt. If Mr. Swift offers us much more encouragement, we will ask him to help us to go into debt by lending us $100,000, more or less, on our looks.

Some anti-Wilson papers are derisively calling upon the President to settle the New York strike by legislation. They ought to know that the New York strike is confined solely to one state and is not an interstate matter, hence it is not within the providence of Congress, which settled the railway trainmen's strike in accordance with the interstate commerce clause of the Federal constitution. The constitution gives Congress very large powers over interstate traffic and corporations, but Congress has no power to legislate for one state or to control affairs within any one state. That is where each state has undisputed power. In order to make a political point, some editors prefer to appear as if they don't know any better. The fact is, they understate the intelligence of their readers who may think that if the President can settle a national strike he can settle a city strike.

BEYOND THE JURISDICTION OF
THE STUMP

It is ruled herein that all constitutional questions are beyond the jurisdiction of the stump. At the same time it brings on more talk of a purely discursive character.

Primarily, therefore, it is hardly necessary to observe that when both political parties in Congress overwhelmingly unite in the passage of a law,
its constitutionality, if seriously questioned, has to be tested in the Supreme Court. The Adamson act was passed by large Democratic and Republican majorities and the basis for its passage was the interstate commerce clause of the Federal constitution.
Nevertheless, Judge Hughes is rendering hasty and ill digested opinions on the stump and concurrent judgment is being handed down by various and sundry of the criminality on the street corners, although it is more significant that the learned and astute counsel for the American railways have under advisement the constitutional grounds for appeal.

They are agreed upon the facts in the case, to wit—that Billy Patterson has been struck—but they are cautiously considering whether or not Billy has a remedy at law. Along with counsel, we observe that insofar as Judge Hughes' criticisms, severally formulated, affect the case, there is nothing in them to aid regular lawyers in showing to the Supreme Court that the act of a Democratic and Republican Congress is in contravention of the interstate commerce clause of the constitution. Meanwhile the railway attorneys are taking their time, because the railways have from six to nine months in which to ascertain their legal and constitutional rights in the matter.

We are also taking our time about it, but Judge Hughes is pushed for time, as his day in court will end on the 7th of November. His appeal to the voters is based upon virile criticisms, but so far there is nothing in them to induce the railways to retain him as one of their attorneys to test the constitutionality of the Adamson act.

The public has reason to know that the Adamson act averted the strike of 400,000 railway trainmen, but it will require a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to enable the railways to avert the Adamson act—even if Judge Hughes should accidentally be elected to the presidency.
In the more or less remote eventuality of his election as chief magistrate, he would be without jurisdiction in determining the constitutionality of an act of Congress adopted by hundreds of Democratic and Republican lawyers in Congress. As a campaign issue it might or it might not be decided at the ballot box, but it is entirely within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to pass upon the constitutionality of the Adamson act, regardless of who is elected President. The Supreme court will ignore the opinion of either Hughes or Wilson in determining a purely constitutional matter that has to be decided on the bench and not on the stump.

For that reason we would not vote for or against a presidential candidate on a Supreme Court issue, but would confine our preference to the grave political issues which more or less, very largely less, come within the jurisdiction of a president, provided he has a Congress that does not reverse him to suit itself. We ought to leave all constitutional matters to the courts, for neither the President nor the people are empowered to interpret the constitution. Raising constitutional questions on the stump might elevate a man to the presidency but it won't have the slightest effect upon the constitutionality of an act of Congress.

We rest the case here, for it needs a rest for about nine months till the railway attorneys deem it advisable whether or not to appeal to the Supreme Court. In no case will they appeal to whoever is president of the United States and after the 4th of next March. The matter is beyond the jurisdiction of the stump.

A CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION IS DANGEROUS

The real issue in this campaign is whether the people have sufficient reason to change their administration by substituting a Republican administration by Judge Hughes as president for a second Democratic administration by President Wilson. Judge Hughes and his supporters are assigning various reasons to justify a change, but not a one of them warrants the people in changing the policy of their government at such a critical time.

The main object of all peoples is peace and prosperity. We have both already, so we ought to be satisfied.
We could not possibly get more of either peace or prosperity by a change of administration. Then what reason can any man give for wanting a Republican congress to back him, instead of President Wilson and a Democratic congress to co-operate with him? Let prosperity be due to Wilson or war, or both, or to any world condition that anybody may assign, it makes no difference. We don't have to get prosperity, for we have it. Therefore, we do not need Judge Hughes on that account.

We have peace, so we don't need Judge Hughes to get that blessing for us. President Wilson secured that for us by his foreign policy, therefore, we ought to approve his foreign policy.
Judge Hughes, however, is attacking the Wilson policy, consequently he is asking us to condemn that which has secured us the blessing of peace. A people certainly ought not to be foolish enough to enjoy peace without approving and supporting the policy which gave them peace, a greater blessing than even prosperity. Logically, therefore, there is no reason why President Wilson should be discarded by the American people, for they have two of the greatest blessings that any nation of people could have—peace and prosperity.

Nevertheless, Judge Hughes and the Republicans have sprung a lot of side issues as reasons for a change. Not one nor all of them would justify a change. There might not be any apparent risk to prosperity in a change, but there is possibility of a grave risk to both peace and prosperity. Unless we have peace there can be no prosperity, so we ought to know that the best basis of prosperity is the peace that Wilson has secured for us.

We must admit that our peace would be in danger if we changed administrations, for Judge Hughes is persistently attacking the very thing that secured peace for the Nation. The logical inference is that he is disap-satisfied with peace, else he certainly would not criticize the policy which has kept the country out of war. If he favors peace, he would certainly favor Wilson's foreign policy.

We have every ground, therefore, to fear that the election of Judge Hughes would be a menace to our peace. He certainly would not be expected to carry out a peace policy that he is defouncing, hence he would have a difference—possibly a radically different—policy. Therein would lie every possibility that we would be gotten into trouble by a Hughes policy, because he has talked radically and even ven-omously during this campaign. There is a plain threat to American peace in the very attitude of Judge Hughes. We cannot avoid that conclusion, and we can't see how the people can avoid it.

Both our peace and prosperity would be endangered by a radical change in the policy of the administration at Washington. That change of policy is the main issue run all over the country by the Republican candidate for president. Why does he want to change policies, unless he is not satisfied with keeping this country at peace? If he favors peace, he certainly would have to carry out the Wilson policy that he condemns. However, he is not needed to carry out any kind of policy, for Wilson has given us one that has completely filled the bill. What more do the people want?
We certainly do not think they would want Hughes and his policy as a menace to our peace and prosperity.

President Wilson is exceedingly wise in pointing out that a threatened change in policy during this world crisis really is the gravest question in this campaign. In his letter to the Woman's Democratic Club, of Portland, Ore., on Wednesday, he said: "The question is about to be determined whether we shall keep the Nation upon its present terms of peace and good will with the world, or turn to radical changes of policy which may alter the whole aspect of the Nation's life."

The President really outlines in brief
the most serious issue in this campaign, and besides that greatest issue, there isn't another issue of any kind that would warrant the people to take the risk in setting aside a peace administration for a Hughes administration that threatens danger, and moreover, is not needed in any particular. He may want to introduce a radical policy for a safe and sane one,
but we hardly believe that the people would care to take the risk.

TACK

Says the esteemed Durham Herald (Ind.) "The Democratic press is rushing to the defense of the eight-hour law, which is at least an admission that it needs defense." It is being defended because Judge Hughes is attacking it in order to destroy the effect of Wilson legislation which averted the most disastrous strike situation that this country ever faced.

The virtue in the Adamson bill is that it averted a great calamity, while its eight-hour provision is merely incidental to the potential and effective means provided by legislation to meet an emergency of the most enormous consequence to American business. The eight-hour part of it was only the end to the means which put a threatened disaster out of business. The eight-hour feature of the bill does not need defense, for that isn't what the astute judge is hitting at. He is hitting at it so he can swat the genuine article—the real cause, the actual means which had the positive effect of saving this country from inconceivable distress and inevitable loss for everybody.

The Republican candidate's deliberate motive is to destroy the powerful effect of the Adamson bill as a political scoop. It is dangerous in that respect, for it is liable to re-elect Wilson—that is the strike-stopping part of it. All of us ought to be able to see that Judge Hughes aims at the eight-hour provision in order to shoot the white elephant on his hands in the way of Wilson legislation which put a quietus on a calamity that threatened ruin as big as the whole of America.
To minimize the effect of such a palpable Wilson success is Judge Hughes' only way to keep it from getting his presidential goat.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union;
"Jacksonville will be the packing house town of the South." Well, she may be if Wilmington will let her.

BICKERING AND DICKERING

Most men become bitterly estranged by bickering, whereas business men get together by dickering. Maybe if men would dick more and bicker less they would not be divided into two hostile cliques, two hostile factions, two hostile parties and two hostile camps. However, two little old town or city cliques is the limits. It isn't business. Duffers differ and bicker.

Perhaps there is both virtue and ethics in dickering—that is, if dickering means to "give and take" so as to get together on mutual grounds for trading, satisfactory understanding as to personal matters and community cooperation as to progress and development. Of course, there is a class of men who will refuse to co-operate unless you do all the co-operating with them. At the same time they ought to recognize the fact that turn about is fair play.

Making mutual concessions makes friends, and, according to Burke, the great English statesman, a compromising spirit is the basis of all human progress. It averts war and strife and contentions and strikes and bickering and biting. Anyhow, dickering is better than bickering.

ON BOOSTING WILMINGTON

To the Editor of The Star:
As a daily reader of The Star, I have long wanted to compliment you on your excellent series of editorials boosting Wilmington.

I know of no better employment for all public-spirited and forward looking citizens than to follow in your tracks. That there is a very great and increasing need for men and women of means, and for all of us who have the good name and prosperity of Wilmington at heart, to get right down to good earnest and honest effort, and stop our fiddling and nonsensical talk about what Wilmington is going to do "some day," no one can deny.

It is not only useless but positively harmful to the progress of the city for our Chamber of Commerce and other organizations to get out data showing the richness of our soil and timely rainfall, the three-crops-a-year possibilities, the ridiculously low cost of producing pork compared to the enormously high prices which can be got for it, the big yields of corn, potatoes, alfalfa, peanuts, etc., etc., to be accompanied by the distressing dimculty of raising—what in any other city of much less size and wealth, would be considered a paltry sum—that $100,000 for the industry which every investigation which has so far been made assures an abundant return in profits and employment for a considerable number of citizens at good pay—that Carolina packing plant.
There has appeared in the several letters bawling the "luring" from our city of our laborers, to parts where more continuous and better paid work is promised. Our leading citizens have tried to prevent this, seemingly to take it as a personal affront, but arguing that the men who thus accept jobs at a distance are dupes, and will return sadder and wiser, with money gone, or will be marooned in a distant city without means to return.

It is a good democratic principle that if we want to purchase something, we should have the privilege of buying it at the cheapest market; and if we have something to sell, to dispose of it in the highest market.

This applies equally to labor as to commodities, and a person or group of persons has the right—all laws to the contrary notwithstanding—to dispose of his or her products to the highest bidder. That is what is now being done and will be increasingly done as these places offer greater inducements to the workers to come to a standstill to which she is so rapidly heading. Can this undesirable state be avoided? Yes, by all means, for we really have many of the natural advantages of which we are so boastful, but the case cries for the action, not of "leading citizens," but of citizens who will lead, and other citizens who will follow; for the Thomases, the Richards and the Henrys, the Toms, Dicks and Harrys—which make up the whole population of Wilmington—no one should possibly be omitted from this booster campaign.

And those who have made their money
here now owe the town something,
not a donation nor a gift—only a little faith in the future—a little preliminary to all successful enterprises—
a loosening-up process.
Shall Wilmington wait impatiently until some of her "dead ones" are securely buried, when the only thing that can be said of them will be that "they died possessed of such and such a sum, and so are gathered to their fathers?" No, let it rather be recorded that "the late lamented John Doe was a loved and loyal citizen of the city which he so well ornamented, public spirited to the point of forgetting himself, so thoroughly did he identify himself with the progress of the city in every direction. His remains were followed to the grave by a vast throng of those who so truly lamented him." If I should be asked to suggest a tocsin or war cry, it would be "Up and At It!"
Very truly yours,
E. L. MAPLEY.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 28.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Wilmington is getting ready for the spring municipal election and thinks there will be "something doing." Wait until you hear from Charlotte—Charlotte Observer.

"Invisible government" we have had in this country with the Republicans in control. Not alone in the Congress of the United States has Big Business worked in covert ways to control affairs to its liking but in the White House itself there have been agreements made in defiance of the law.

And this is even gloried in by Theodore Roosevelt. Henry Ford applies a new term to this sort of dark lantern government. He describes it as that of "unseen hands," that it is these "unseen hands" which are grasping at government that it may take it from under the direction of Woodrow Wilson and have in power a party which is always ready to take its orders from the Special Interests which think they are operating with "unseen hands." Announcing that he is a Republican, but that he is supporting Wilson for President, Henry Ford in summing up his reasons for the position he has taken declares: "I'm for Wilson because he is onto the interests—the unseen hands that seek to control government—and is holding them off."—Raleigh News and Observer.

Jake Newell, the heap big Republican speaker of Mecklenburg, fired one of the big guns of the campaign for the Robeson county Republicans in Lumberton Monday night. He did his possible and made as good a speech as any body can make, in the opinion of many of his hearers, on the side he is trying to uphold, seeing how very little there is for a Republican to criticize. It was too ridiculous for anything the way
Mr. Newell got into a hole about cotton prices and never did get out. He deposed and said that the Lord always sent big cotton crops during Democratic administrations, for he knew the price was going to be low and it would take a heap of cotton to make up for the price. See where that left him? Poor old Jake, he never did get out of that hole. He never did explain why the crop is so short this year and the price so high. Practically all sections of the county where there are any Republicans were represented at the speaking and it is estimated that the Republicans in the crowd numbered one hundred and fifty or possibly two hundred. The brethren seemed not particularly pleased. There was nothing much for Mr. Newell to say, and after saying that nothing much the best he could many of the faithful who perhaps expected this great apostle to hand them out a line of talk that would enable them to go out to fight the Democrats with a quiver full of arrows—well, they seemed disappointed; for nary an arrow did Jake give them.
But they should not blame him; he has no arrows in his own quiver. Democrats were pleased with the speech, although they did not advance any arguments that could not be answered easily and conclusively.—Lumberton Robesonian.

P. E. BROWN AT HAMLET

Republican Candidate for Congress
Haden's Thought of 8-Hour Law.
(Special Star Correspondence.)
Hamlet, N. C., September 28.—Hon.
P. E. Brown, of Wilkesboro, Republican candidate for Congress of the Seventh district, and his chaplains, J. J. Parker, of Monroe, candidate for attorney general, spoke to a small audience at the City Hall at Hamlet on Wednesday night. By actual count there were 35 present, which included three prominent Republicans from out of town, one ex-postmaster, an ex-United States Commissioner, the Republican candidate for sheriff, three other Republicans, two Croats, and the balance Democrats who were there through curiosity.

The entire speech of Mr. Brown was on the tariff, and at the close of his speech he was asked "If you are elected to Congress, will you vote to repeal the Adamson law?" At first he declined to answer, afterward stating that he had not given the subject any thought.

MISTRIAL BY JURY BUT PLEA OF GUILTY MADE

White Given 18 Months in Prison
on White Slavery Charge

Young Man Arrested in Wilmington
Sentenced by Judge Connor Last Night After Trial in Laurinburg Federal Court.

Although a jury in Federal court at Laurinburg, failed to convict M. C. White, the young white man arrested in Wilmington on August 26th on a charge of carrying a young woman into South Carolina for immoral purposes, the attorneys for the defendant entered a plea of guilty and Judge M. G. Connor last night sentenced him to 18 months in the United States prison in Atlanta.

The fall term of Laurinburg Federal court adjourned at 7 o'clock last night and United States District Attorney J. O. Carr and Judge Connor came to Wilmington on the late train last night. The trial of White was the most important case on the criminal docket in the court and was taken up Thursday.

White was charged with having violated the Mann white slave act by carrying Ruth Pittman, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. J. B. Pittman, of Laurinburg, into South Carolina, for immoral purposes. The defendant set up a defense that he intended to marry the girl.

The case went to the jury yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and yesterday evening the foreman reported that they were unable to agree. Attorneys for the defendant then entered a plea of guilty and at 4:30 o'clock Judge Connor sentenced him to the Federal prison for 18 months. A physician's certificate was read in the court, stating that White was suffering from tuberculosis. It is understood that the jury stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal, according to a dispatch from Laurinburg to The Star.

White, who is an expert machinist, came to Wilmington in August to install some machinery at the Bellville cotton mill. On June 12th a warrant was sworn out against him but he had not been located by the officers until it was learned that he was in Wilmington. Following his arrest here, he was taken to Laurinburg and placed in the county jail there.

Following the convening of Federal Court at Laurinburg on Tuesday after an able charge by Judge Connor, the trial of the criminal docket was taken up. Practically everyone of the dozen or more cases coming up for trial resulted in convictions. Walter Gleaves, a colored youth, was given 18 months in the Federal prison for taking mail from the letter boxes at the Laurinburg postoffice. W. F. McManis entered a plea of guilty of illicit distilling. He asked the mercy of the court, promising in the future to steer clear of evil doing, and prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of the costs.

Judge Connor came to Wilmington last night for the purpose of hearing motions in the libel case brought in connection with the presence of the Spanish steamer Luisa at this port.

PTHTHAN MEMBERSHIP

Likely to be Increased Through New Publicity Campaign

According to an article appearing in the current issue of the Knight's of Pythias Insurance News, Grand Chancellor Holt, of North Carolina, and Editor Thos. D. Meares, of the Carolina Pythian, have inaugurated a publicity movement in the State domain which is novel and should be productive of much good.

The plan, in brief, is to have the lodges select a list of men in their several jurisdictions who would make good Pythians. It is urged that no name be included where there is not reasonable certainty of action if application is made. The Carolina Pythian will be sent to these prospective members for a period of one year at a cost of 15 cents each to the lodge furnishing the names.

JUDGE H. G. CONNOR TO HEAR
MOTIONS IN LIBEL CASE

Hearing Admiralty Proceedings to be Held by Federal Judge.

Judge Henry G. Connor, of Wilson, will hear motions of attorneys this morning in the case of the Freighters' Transportation Company against the Templeman Steamship Company, in the United States District Court room in Wilmington, according to an announcement made yesterday by one of the counsel in the case.

The foregoing case is an action for $20,000 damages in admiralty proceedings for the alleged failure on the part of the defendant to keep a contract with reference to the charter of a steamer. A libel has been filed in the local district of Federal Court, and attachment made of the property of the defendant, the Spanish steamer Luisa, now loading cotton at the Seaboard terminal dock in this city. Bond will probably also be fixed by the judge and executed by the steamer's charterers, so that the sailing to Genoa may not be delayed. Robert Rusk, Esq., is of local counsel for the plaintiff, while John D. Bellamy & Son, will appear for others having interests in the case.

ACCIDENT WAS UNAVOIDABLE

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict That Little Harriet Cromartie's Death Was Purely Accidental.

The coroner's jury which yesterday investigated the cause of the death of little Harriet Berry Cromartie, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Cromartie, of No. 405, Chestnut street, after examining a large number of witnesses, rendered a verdict at 8:15 o'clock last night to the effect that the deceased came to her death by being struck by an automobile, operated by Captain Lucian Clifton, and that the injury was purely accidental. The jury, together with Acting Coroner H. Mack Godwin, appointed for special cases by Maj. W. N. Harrison, clerk of the Supreme Court, during the absence of Coroner A. S. Holden, who is in Jacksonville, Fla., met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the County Court House, heard a number of witnesses and recessed until 1 P. M. After a session which lasted several hours, a second recess was taken until 6 o'clock in order that it might be ascertained whether the mother of the little girl wished to testify.

A member of the jury who was acquainted with the family visited the residence, and was informed that Mrs. Cromartie did not wish to testify. Following the return of the juror, the verdict was rendered.

Solicitor George L. Peschau conducted the examination of the witnesses.

L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared at the inquest when summoned and stated that his client, Capt. Clifton, would make a statement, if the jury desired to have him testify. After some discussion, he was informed that it would not be necessary.

The members of the coroner's jury were as follows: Messrs. L. O. Ellis, J. N. Sweeney, W. H. Barden, D. K. McGwyn, H. B. Bailey and A. M. Mincey. The witnesses who testified at the inquest included the following: Mrs. H. M. Ford, Dr. Ernest Bulluck, Miss Katie Foard, Dr. H. E. Clark, Lawrence Kure, J. H. Salling, Chief of Police N. J. Williams, T. N. Hodges and Esie Murray, colored, the child's nurse.

The testimony of the witnesses was taken down in full by Mr. J. W. Sneeden. The first witness sworn was Esie Murray, who testified that at the time of the accident she was across the street from the Cromartie home, on Chestnut between Fourth and Fifth streets, and when she saw an automobile coming up Chestnut street going east, and beyond the house of the Cromarties, an automobile struck.

Just prior to the time the child was struck, the witness testified, that both she and Mrs. Cromartie began to scream when they noticed Harriet starting across the street. She added, "The machine struck the child, who was on the right hand side of Chestnut street; the fender seemed to hit Harriet on the lower part of the face. The child was knocked down and one of the front wheels of the car appeared to pass over her foot. The machine came to a stop between 20 and 25 feet beyond where it struck her. Mrs. Cromartie reached the scene of the accident about the time the child was struck, picked up and carried her to the sidewalk." Asked as to how fast the car was moving the witness testified that "it was coming right good and fast," but added that she was no judge of speed. She further swore that the car was about 100 feet from the child, when she, (the witness), screamed.

Mrs. Foard, the second witness, testified that she saw the automobile strike the child, but owing to the ensuing excitement could not make any detailed statement. Dr. Bulluck testified that death was probably caused by a fracture of the base of the skull of the child's skull. Miss Katie Foard's testimony corroborated substantially that given by the child's nurse. Chief of Police Williams testified as to what Captain Clifton had told him concerning the accident. He added that Captain Clifton at the time seemed to be very much distressed over the affair.

In explaining the points of law involved in the case to the jury, Solicitor Peschau told them that the operator of an automobile would not necessarily be criminally liable, if in operating his car he accidentally injured or killed a person crossing the highway, and this would be so even though it should appear that the operator was not entirely without fault. Continuing, he said:

"If death resulted even inadvertently from the commission of some act on the part of the operator while running his car, that amounted to a misdemeanor, or the weight of authority seemed to hold that the operator would be criminally liable if the car was so operated as to show a reckless disregard for the safety of persons using the streets. Such actions, he added, would be wrongful per se and render the operator criminally liable."

AUTO COLLIDES WITH CAR

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted
When Machine Skidded Yesterday.

The skidding of an automobile owned by the Cape Fear Hardware Company, caused the machine to collide with a street car at Front and Dock streets yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, but fortunately neither one was going at a rapid speed and but little damage was done. One of the wheels of the automobile was mashed up considerably while the fender of the street car was battered up.

WILL ENLARGE MEMBERSHIP

Wilmington Bureau of Credits Inaugurate Campaign At Luncheon—Enthusiastic Addresses Made.

A campaign for new members was inaugurated by the Wilmington Bureau of Credits at an enjoyable luncheon at the Hotel Wilmington yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Committees were appointed to make an active canvass of the city immediately. It was also decided to reduce the membership dues from $75 to $50 annually.

Covers were laid for 15 at the luncheon which was presided over by Mr. A. M. Hall, president of the Bureau of Credits. It is planned in the future to have luncheons once a month at which the members will discuss questions of mutual interest.

Enthusiastic addresses were made by Messrs. M. W. Jacob, John R. Murchison, J. B. Rice and several other members. Suggestions for extending the usefulness of the organization were made and it was the unanimous opinion of all present that the Bureau can be made a valuable adjunct to the wholesale business of the city and of the entire surrounding section.

The Bureau has been in existence for several years and with the foundation already laid, it is hoped to extend its usefulness so as to include all the wholesale and jobbing firms in this section. While the organization exists primarily for the protection of its members, its purpose is also to help the man who desires to meet his obligations from having to bear those of the man who does not.

The organization has offices in the Murchison National Bank building which is at the service of its members.

ORDERED TO SHOW CAUSE

Judge G. W. Connor Issues Writ to Brunswick Commissioners to Show Cause Why School Tax Should Not Be

Judge G. W. Connor, of the Superior court, who has been holding a term of court at Burgaw this week, signed a writ of mandamus directed to the Brunswick Board of County Commissioners, Thursday night, ordering them to appear before him at Southport on Wednesday, October 11, at 2:30 p. m., and show cause why they should not levy a special tax for school purposes in such amount as may be adjudged necessary by the court for the purpose of conducting the Brunswick county schools. The law makes the court the final arbiter of this question.

The foregoing action is brought against the county commissioners by the board of education because of the failure of the commissioners to levy a special tax for school purposes.

In view of the fact that the Brunswick Board of County Commissioners is made up of Republicans, while a number of the Board of Education are Democrats, it is thought by some to warrant the inference that the action of the commissioners might have been taken for political purposes. The report is that the Republicans are going before the people and declaring that the affairs of the county have been conducted most economically under the Republican administration and the claim is made that the Board of Commissioners has been borrowing money for current expenses and in that way have kept the tax rate down. Whereas, it is understood that others claim their action is jeopardizing the public schools of the county.

Unless a special tax is levied to insure four months of school in the county, the county cannot collect its pro rata share of the State appropriation and insure a six month school term under the school law.

The law makes it the duty of the Board of Education to bring suit against the commissioners unless this tax is levied. The Board of Education is asking that a five-cent tax be levied on the $100 worth of taxable property in the county and that a fifteen-cent tax be levied upon every taxable poll. This is just one-third what the board could have asked for under the law.

The Board of Education will be represented at the Southport hearing by Joseph W. Ruark, Esq., of Southport, and Robert Ruark, Esq., of this city. It is presumed that C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport, attorney for the board, will represent the commissioners.

Because of the question which has arisen in Brunswick many fear that the present controversy will result in a cessation of school work, but all are very hopeful that such a condition will not be brought about.

WITNESS SAYS "BOOZE" HAD PECULIAR EFFECT ON MEMORY

Two Colored Men Are Given Three Months on Roads by Recorder.

Some rather peculiar propertities were ascribed to a peach wine and grape juice by witnesses in the case of State against Luby Byrd, who faced the Recorder yesterday morning on the charge of retailing "booze" to various and sundry persons.

One witness testified that after imbibing two goblets of Luby's home brew, he not only did not remember whether he paid anything for it, but then he got home, found that he had a dog, the purchase of which he had no recollection of having made. He added that he was afterwards reliably informed that he had parted with two perfectly good dollars. It is understood that the animal in question was utterly without any pedigree, being an ordinary cur. Another witness testified that he had on one occasion been given a couple of drinks by the defendant, who had bought a quart of the baby. A third witness testified he had paid the defendant 15 cents for a bottle of wine.

Taking the stand in his own behalf, Byrd, who has a place which four miles out near the Federal Point road on the Cape Fear River, testified that he had some grapes on his place and that he had no idea but what he had a right to make the grapes into wine, that he had sold very little, but had often given his friends a drink when they came to see him. Following the conclusion of the evidence, Recorder Emile announced that he would continue prayer for judgment against the defendant.

The chief sufferers at yesterday's session of court were William Dooley and Will Green, both colored, aged 21 and 22 years, respectively, who were sentenced to the county jail for three months each on larceny charges. From the evidence it appears that Dooley stole some glassware at the Carnival grounds which he obtained from a tent, while Green appropriated 150 yards of rope, the property of Dave Brown, colored, which the owner was using at the foot of Chestnut street for tying up rafts that come down the river. In the absence of Solicitor Peschau, who was attending the Coroner's inquest, J. C. King, Esq., appeared for the State in the foregoing cases.

COTTON SLIGHTLY HIGHER WEEK'S REVIEW IN COTTON INDUSTRIALS TAKE LEAD

MANY COUNTIES WILL EXHIBIT IN STATE FAIR

Charter Issued to New Wilmington Corporation

National Cash Register Salesmen Holding Convention in Raleigh—Jap Franks Acquired at Second Long Trial.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—It is estimated that 25 counties will participate in special exhibits in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture in the approaching State Fair, these in addition to numbers of counties that will have their own more elaborate and extensive special exhibits, and the individual farm exhibits that promise to be especially numerous this season.

There is the keenest interest in the better babies contest in this fair, and with indications that there will be more and better babies entered this season than ever before. The accommodations are far superior for this feature of the fair this time.

A charter was issued today for The A. Dallam O'Brien Co. of Wilmington, capital $25,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by A. Dallam O'Brien, E. P. Bailey and Alys M. H. O'Brien for a general furnishing and furniture business for all kinds of buildings and apartments.

A. J. Maxwell, secretary to the Corporation Commission, has been booked by the State Democratic headquarters for a number of campaign speeches in various eastern counties a little later in the campaign. The plan is to make the last week or two of the campaign a veritable whirlwind effort.

Jap Franks Not Guilty.

A verdict of not guilty is the outcome of the second trial of Jap Franks, well known farmer of Holly Springs township, and two negroes, on the charge of stealing 1,000 pounds of meat from the smoke house of his brother, J. H. Franks, and burning the building. The first trial failed to elicit a verdict and the second trial had been in progress a week when the jury returned the verdict of not guilty last night.

It was one of the bitterest contests that has taken place in the Wake courts for a long while.

"What Great Britain wants to make of Germany, is shown by the British without any possibility of doubt. They want to destroy our nation, our life, our Germany which England wants to lay at her feet is a country without military defense, a country crushed economically, boycotted by the entire world and sentenced to lasting economic infirmity.

"When this German competition shall have been eliminated, when France has lost all her blood, when all her allies of war must toll as England's slaves in the financial life, when the neutral world of Europe must follow each English command and submit to every British blacklist, then England will build on devastated Germany her dream of English world domination.

"This is the aim for which England is fighting with forces and means unparalleled in her history, adding one breach of international law to another. Therefore, England is our most, our only, our most bitter and most tenacious enemy.

"A German statesman who would refrain from using against this enemy every proper means of warfare which is apt to shorten the war deserves to be hanged."

The chancellor protested against reports that for any reason, whatever, all means of warfare were not being used as fully as possible. He declared he entered into public discussion which recently had arisen on this subject saying the times were too grave.

Reviews Economic Situation.

The chancellor then briefly reviewed the economic situation. He said that the English starvation blockade had failed and that the provisionment of the German nation had been improved by the recent harvest.

Dr. Van Bethmann-Hollweg acknowledged the "heroism with which the German nation bears its burdens of war and especially the heroism with which our sons and brothers have fought front with the furious attacks of an enemy far superior in numbers and projectiles."

After the chancellor had concluded, there was a long and general applause. The passages recited by the speaker leading up to Rumania's declaration of war, particularly the references to the various promises of Rumania that she would maintain neutrality, caused a deep impression. The chancellor's words in regard to the means of conducting war against Great Britain were followed by applause in which the galleries joined. After a short discussion the Reichstag adjourned until October 5.

MEETING PRIMARILY IN HONOR OF HUGHES

However, Taft and the Colonel Are to Shake Hands

No Campaign Buttons Collectively Bearing Pictures of the Three Will Be Worn at Union League Club Reception.

New York, Sept. 29.—No campaign buttons collectively bearing pictures of Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft and Charles E. Hughes will be worn by guests at the Union League Club reception in honor of Republican presidential candidate next Tuesday evening, it was learned tonight. Chairman Willcox, of the National committee, is said to have been informed, although not by Mr. Hughes, that if campaign buttons are distributed they should bear only the likeness of the candidate himself.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt are reported to have intimated to Mr. Willcox that undue emphasis has been placed upon the fact that the Colonel and Prof. Taft will meet at the reception for the first time in the field of politics since the Progressive party was born in 1912.

The suggestion has been made that the real purpose of the gathering is to permit Republicans to pay their respects to the party's standard bearer and not to provide occasion for a reconciliation between Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft.

The Colonel is an honorary member of the Union League Club and accepted the invitation to the reception because it is to be given in honor of Mr. Hughes, it was explained.

While he will shake hands with Professor Taft, it will be the same manner of greeting as was extended when the two met a year ago at the funeral of Professor Lounsbury, at New Haven.

Colonel Roosevelt declared today that "five-sixths of the Progressives are for Mr. Hughes" and predicted the election of the Republican candidate.

HUGHES SPENDS DAY IN HIS OLD POLITICAL BATTLEGROUND

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Charles E. Hughes went through the southern tier of counties in New York state today over his political battleground of ten years ago. He spoke in four cities and greeted with handshakes or with a few words, ten other audiences in smaller towns.

Mr. Hughes repeated his views on the protective tariff, the Adamson law, the maintenance of American rights, and other issues of the campaign. He again recalled the administration for "surrender to force," for "broken pledges" and for "extraneous claims."

In his speech at Binghamton and again at Elmira and Corning, the nomination of William H. Taft, he made before him making known his views on the eight-hour day.

"I am not opposed to the principle of the eight-hour day," Mr. Hughes said. "I favor the general principle of the eight-hour day. I should like to see an eight-hour work day."

Mr. Hughes was fatigued by the trip. Tomorrow, the last day of the second campaign trip, will end at Buffalo with two addresses at night.

PRICES OF MEAT ANIMALS INCREASED 4.1 PER CENT

This Advance Was For Period From August 15 to September 15.

Washington, September 29.—Prices of meat animals—hogs, cattle, sheep and chickens—increased 4.1 per cent. from August 15 to September 15, compared with an average increase of 0.9 per cent in the same period the last six years. The Department of Agriculture announced today that the index figures of prices paid to producers for these meat animals was about 23.7 per cent. higher than last year, 10.5 per cent. higher than 2 years ago and 22.5 per cent. higher than the average of the last six years on September 15.

The price of hogs on September 15, averaged $9.22 per hundred pounds, an increase of 61 cents from the previous month, $2.25 over year ago and $1.94 over the average September 15 price of the last six years.

Beef cattle averaged $6.55 per 100 pounds, an increase of 4 cents from the previous month, 49 cents over a year ago, and $1.08 over the six year average.

CANNOT EVADE CHILD LABOR LAW BY STORAGE OF GOODS

Secretary Wilson Replies to Assertions That That Executives

Washington, September 29.—Secretary Wilson, a member of the board of three cabinet members designated to draft resolutions putting the new child labor law into effect, issued a statement tonight replying to assertions that the law easily could be evaded by storing products in storage for thirty days after their manufacture. Those who attacked the law, he said, failed to distinguish between producing plants and warehouses, which might be located under the same roof and still be distinct under the meaning of the provision barring from interstate commerce any product removed from a plant in which child labor had been employed within the thirty days previous. He declared that any removal, therefore, of a commodity from the point where it was produced by child labor, even though it was stored a foot away for thirty days, or any other period, would make it forever inacceptable in interstate commerce.

CHICAGO CLUB WOMEN ASK WHEAT AND FLOUR EMBARGO

Officials Say Bread From American Flour Is Cheaper Abroad.

Chicago, September 29.—Resolutions asking an embargo on wheat and flour were adopted today at a meeting of club women, most of whom defended bread makers here for raising the price of bread. The increase, they declared, was justified by war exports, crop shortage, and added manufacturing expenses due to improved sanitary conditions.

At the same time, officials of the office of United States District Attorney Cline, who are inquiring whether there was any illegal agreement among the bakers to raise prices, called attention to the fact that bread from American flour is selling cheaper in London, Trieste, Lyons, Harve and other cities than in the United States.

U. S. NEUTRALITY AGAIN CRITICIZED.

American aviators in a number of our enemies, betrays the degree of neutrality which America in the future intends to maintain."

The Tagelblatt says:

"The American conduct may be regarded as proof of how American feeling in respect for the principles of neutrality are vanishing."

Such stalwart organs as the Tagelblatt, the Rundschau, the Tages Zeitung, and the Post all connect the news of the American aviation corps with the submarine issue as the basis for the argument that moderation in the use of Germany's undersea weapons merely serves to further American assistance to the Entente Allies in men and munitions.

In an article on Aviator Rockwell the Tages Zeitung says:

"It is self evident that this unneu-trial favor and support of our enemies cannot be permanently permitted by Germany. America itself cannot doubt that its conduct arouses universal indignation in Germany.
